

Contemporary Culture

Gold Fish Market, Mong Kok Kowloon

Contemporary Culture

Gold Fish Market at

Tung Choi Street, Mong Kok, Kowloon

Any thoughts on purchasing a “Nemo”(type of marine fish)’ or a typical gold fish? Gold Fish Market located in Mong Kok Kowloon will bring you the largest variety of fish to purchase, including tropical fish, gold fish, and special sea creatures like small jelly fish, box turtles and crawfish and even different types of tropical corals.

There are also a many types of accessories such as fish tanks, medical treatment

Gold Fish waiting to be brought home

Gold fish store, bags and tanks filled with different types of fish for fish, fish pellets and much more. This is a street where you can purchase anything to create a small fish tank to an appealing aquarium in your home. Nearby, there is also a flea market, where hawkker stalls sell food, clothing, and even toys at a very low price.

Neighborhood

Gold Fish Market is located in Tung Choi Street, Mong Kok Kowloon. There are many transportations you can take to reach this destination point. Here is a table of suggested transportations to take.

Getting to the fish market

Location	Transportation Method Travel Time
Admiralty MTR Station –Underneath a mall, Pacific Place.	Take the Tsuen Wan Line (Red) all the way to Prince Edward Station. 15 Minutes Go to exit B2 afterwards.
Wan Chai – Wan Chai Pier Bus Terminal	Take the KMB 104 to Prince Edward station, Mathan Road. 22 Minutes
North Point- Java Road Bus Station	Take the KMB 102, 112 or 118 to Prince Edwards, Bus Terminal. 30 minutes

BUS:

Once you get off at the Bus Terminal, walk to the overhead bridge and just take it until the end, passing through some main roads such as Sai Yee Street and Fa Yuen Street. Keep following the passage because this is a one way route. Once you meet the end, you will see reach the gold fish market.

MTR:

If you took the MTR, get off at Prince Edward Station and go to Exit B2. Once you reach the top, you will see a petrol station. Walk southwards and you will meet Tung Choi Street, Gold Fish Market

Travelers’ code of Ethics

Beware of the feelings of other people, preventing what might be offensive behavior. Remember this especially with photography.