Wan Chai Park

WanChai Park is a beautiful scenery point that shows both the Urban and Rural side of Hong Kong. Inside the park, besides from south, there are tall buildings surrounding the park and also trees and plants, leading to fresh air in the park.

Located at South side of Park

The park also reveals the daily life's of some of the Hong Kong people. As many gather together in the morning for stretching exercises and Tai Chi, a marshal art. The Tai Chi routines are usually done in groups at a slow pace. Some come to the park to listen to the radio, play sports or relax and bring their cage birds for company. The park not only is a scenery point, but also shows the cultural side of Hong Kong.

The football pitch at the WanChai Park is located south of the park, just 20seconds away from the south entrance. This is a public pitch and therefore anyone is allowed to use it.

Trees and high rise buildings distant away surround the pitch. This unique setting, makes this pitch one of the best in Hong Kong. You are most welcome to join for a priceless experience of a game of football.
