

Contemporary Culture

www.cis.edu.hk/Sec/ss/Geography/Year11+/

Bird Garden

Yuen Po Street, Mongkok, Kowloon

Opening Hours :
7a.m. — 8 p.m.

Entrance of Bird Garden

Want to experience a refreshing morning stride? There is no better place than the Bird Garden on Yuen Po street in Mongkok. It is a locally known area where songbird owners carry their beloved pets around, sharing the peaceful moments together.

Every early morning, retired elderly tends to bring along their favorite pet and gather round with friends. They chat and relax while their birds sing for them.

Hundred of songbirds can be seen in this charming garden, each has its own unique voice. Have a walk down the street, and you will find yourself captivated by the harmony of the songbirds.

People setting up for the opening business

There are up to 70 stalls that stretches down on one side of the garden. They provide a great variety of songbirds, Chinese 'bamboo' cages, food and snacks for your pet, accessories and everything else a bird-owner needs.

The price of the birds are quite low, as it depends on how

Cages of birds hanging around the store

well the bird sings.

NEIGHBOURHOOD

The Bird garden is nearby the Flower Market, which is located on the flower market road.

People shopping for flowers in the flower market

Travlers' code of Ethics
Beware of other people's feelings, prevent any offensive behaviours. Always remember this, especially with photography.

How to get there?

1. MTR Prince Edward Station → Exit B1 → walk east along Prince Edward Road West.

2. MTR Mong Kok East Station → Exit C → walk to Sai Yee Street via footbridge and follow the signs.

*There are no bus stops nearby.

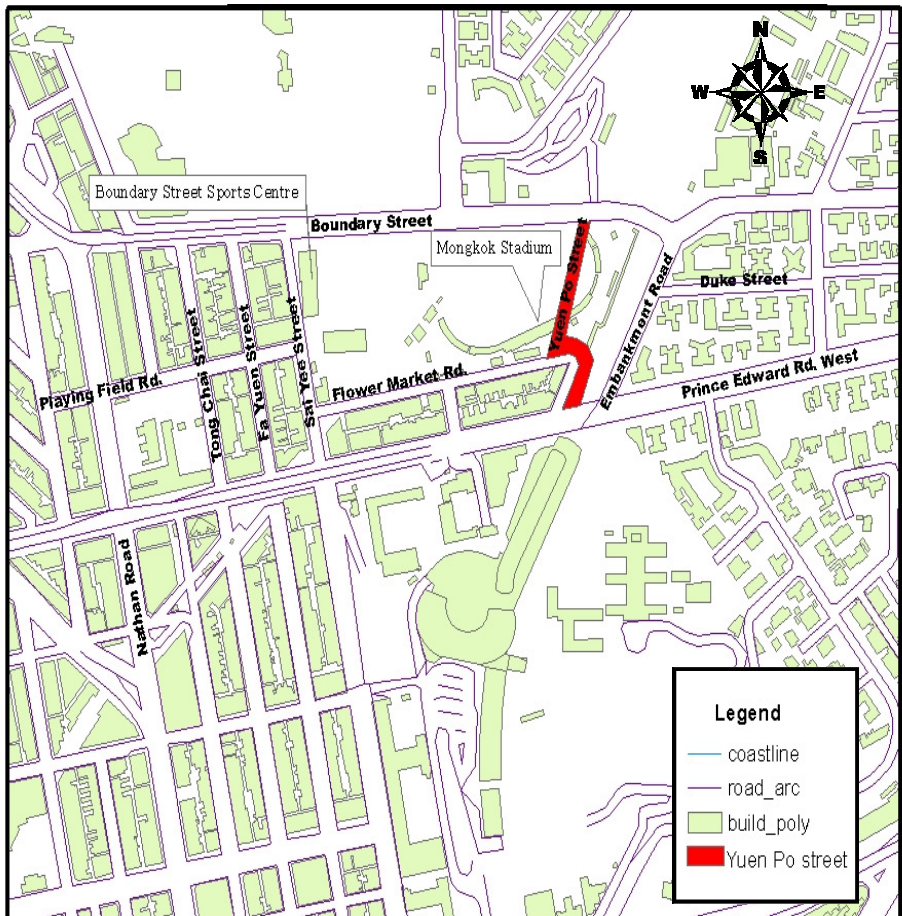

Waiting...

Contemporary Culture

[www.cis.edu.hk/Sec/ss/Geography/Year11+/
/](http://www.cis.edu.hk/Sec/ss/Geography/Year11+/)

LOCATION OF YUEN PO STREET

0 0.00037500075 0.0015 Decimal Degrees