

Honeymoon Dessert

(滿記甜品)- Chinese Desserts

Many people love desserts and think that nice desserts consist of rich cakes, ice- cream, chocolate etc.

However, traditional Chinese desserts are just as nice and tasty as western desserts. Chinese desserts consist of both hot and cold desserts and can include ingredients such as green or red beans, coconut milk, eggs whites and fruits.

Honeymoon Dessert is definitely one of the dessert shops that one should visit. It has a history of over 10 years old and many branches around Hong Kong. The desserts that people are entitled to try may be desserts that are not available in Western countries.

One of the more popular branches is conveniently located in Hopewell Centre in Wan Chai. It is open from 12:30pm to 10:30pm every day, and the busiest period is at lunch times and just after dinner time at around 8:30pm to 9:30pm.

Honeymoon Dessert has a large variety of different desserts, all made with different ingredients and placed attractively in front of the customer.

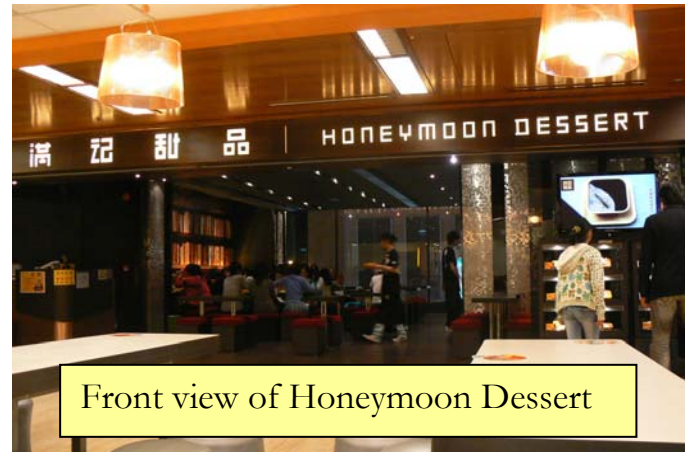

Large variety of desserts

The prices of the desserts are also reasonable priced.

Hopewell Centre is a less than 10 minutes taxi ride from Central or Causeway Bay; and can also be reached by tram, minibuses and double decker buses. Wanchai MTR is a 5 minute walk away from the Centre.

During peak hours, the shop may be full and one may be required to wait for a table.

Front view of Honeymoon Dessert

Transport to Hopewell Centre:

Possible ways to get there	From	Time
(Mini Bus) 28	Causeway Bay (to Hopewell Centre, Kennedy Road Entrance)	(no traffic) 10 minutes
(MTR) Exit: Wan Chai, A3	Exit: Johnston Road (to Hopewell Centre, Queen's Road East Entrance)	5 minutes
(Bus) 6, 6A, 6X	Central (Exchange Square)	20 minutes
(Bus) 10, 10S	Kennedy Town	30 minutes

Travellers Code of Ethics

Choose to be surprised, not disappointed, when places and people do not match your expectations.

