Wong Nai Chung Reservoir Park 黄泥涌水塘公园

Hong Kong is not just a city of skyscrapers. Experience the lush greenery and stunning scenery the city has to offer at the Wong Nai Chung Reservoir Park. This disused reservoir has been converted into a boating pond. Why not rent a paddle-boat and relax and enjoy the breathtaking views while feeding the infinite number of freshwater fish. You could purchase a loaf of bread for HK$10. Feel the excitement as the fishes follow your boat wherever you paddle! See if you can spot the ducks and turtles hiding around in the bushes! If you're thirsty, hungry or simply need a rest, the outdoor cafe would be perfect, where you can enjoy some of Hong Kong's local snacks.

Entrance to boating pond
