

Scenery: Urban

Chinese International School - Christopher Checketts

www.cis.edu.hk/Sec/ss/Geography/Year10+/Hong_Kong_mini_guides

Choi Sai Woo Park

Choi Sai Woo Park, a beautiful and lush landscaped garden the features recreational areas as well as natural scenery that is rarely found in urban quarters.

Stairs in the park amidst a beautiful natural setting

Elderly and children frequent the park alike. As it provides both facilities that cater to pensioners general health as well as facilities that are designed for young children to play on.

The Park itself epitomizes the daily ritual that most elderly people go through. In the early morning they can be found doing exercises, listening to the radio and walking their birds in their bird cages.

And in the afternoon, the park is a jovial scene of youth, as the slow paced elderly folk going about their morning exercises are replaced by hordes of young children using the playground that is found in the park.

Travelers Code of Ethics

Seize the power of your experience. Act directly to accomplish conservation

Neighborhood

Choi Sai Woo Park is located in a prestigious housing estate in Braemar hill and is near KCC.

An example of the beautiful scenery in the park.

Getting to the park is quite easy, as it is near many schools and housing estates. One can take the 25 mini bus from Causeway bay and arrive at the southern-end of the park and the 49m mini bus from Tin Hau has a number of stops near the park.

Scenery: Urban

Chinese International School - Christopher Checketts

www.cis.edu.hk/Sec/ss/Geography/Year10+/Hong_Kong_mini_guides

Choi Sai Woo Park

