Little Palm Beach Sailing and Diving point

An ideal location for divers who are looking for colourful corals, plus exotic and uncommon marine creatures, and sailors who are looking for a great seascape can be found in Clearwater Bay. It is located at the end of Hang Hau Wing Lung Road, which is a junction off the left of Clearwater Bay road. It is a quiet location surrounded by houses, so once you have taken care of your water activities, you might want to relax and enjoy the quietness that you are unable to experience in modern Hong Kong accompanied by the stunning view of one of Hong Kong's cleanest beach.

Neighborhood

Clearwater Bay is located at the east of Hong Kong. It can be reached by bus and MTR. However, there is only one bus route available: no. 91, provided by KMB. There are some useful information below, depending on traffic conditions and your starting point.

MTR station	Information
Hang Hau station	Taxi fare: $25-30 address
Choi Hung Station	bus fare:$ 6.10
Diamond Hill station

Getting To the Beach

If your choice of transport is not getting off at Hang Hau station, you will have to take the bus instead of the taxi. After getting off the Mang Kung Uk station, keep walking up the hill, cross the junction which leads to Hang Hau Wing Lung road, and arrive a parking lot with another junction- the shortcut. Walk down the junction from the parking lot, and you will see a flight of stairs. Walk down the flight of stairs. At the end of the stairs, turn left, and walk till u meet the main road (where the garbage collection is). Keep walking down the road, on the way, you will pass a lot of houses, keep your volumes down, since people live in here, and you might disturb them. At the end of the road, there is a sharp turn to the left, a smaller road which leads down to the beach. Walk down the road, and you will soon meet the sailing club. To go to the beach itself, turn left at the roundabout, where there is a bar blocking cars entering.
